

The 10th of November

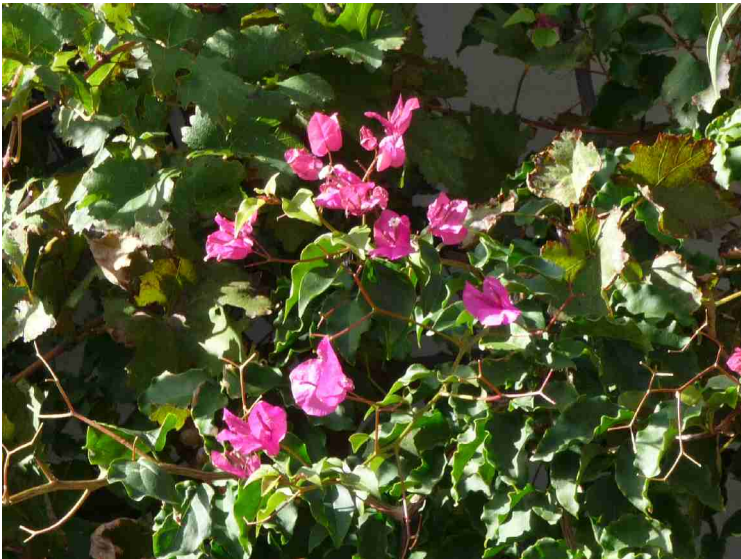

Today there was blowing a strong breeze, but there was still 22 centigrades in the morning. Today we relaxed for a long time before we went out. We went for a walk in the city.

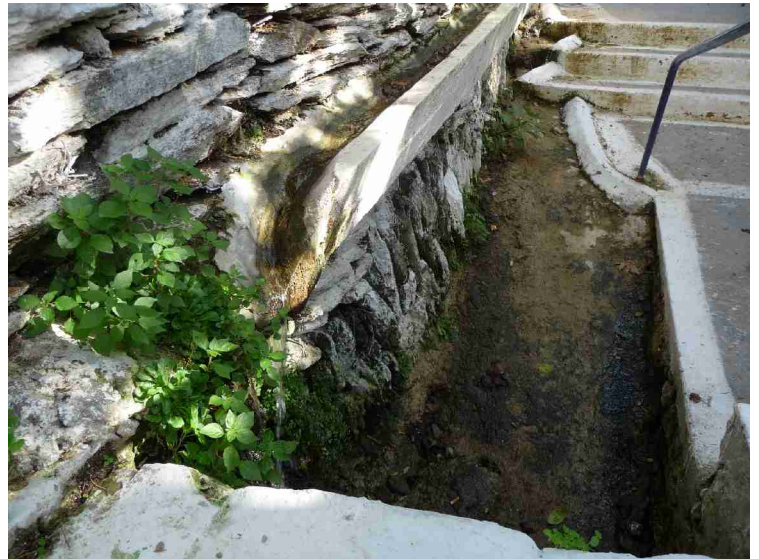

After going outside we look right down to the supermarket.

Today the housecat waited for us outside

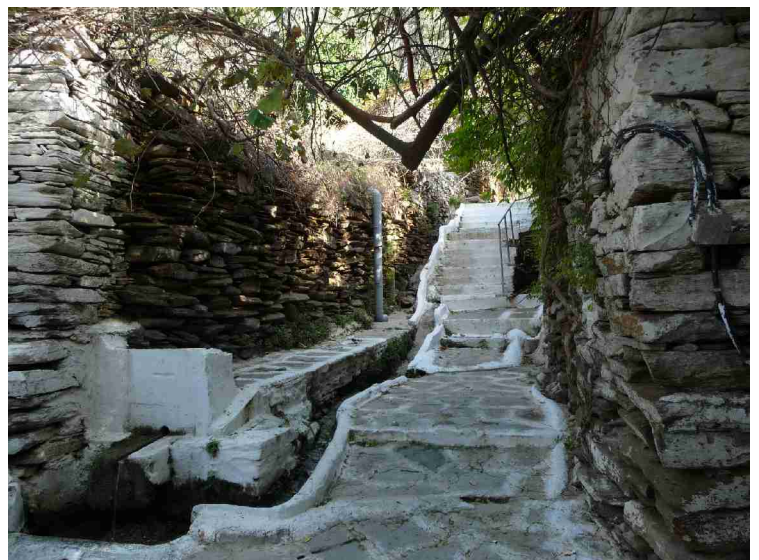

There are nice flowers outside

We went uphill in the little valley in the middle of the town. Here are made water channels.

This resembles calla, which we have in our livingrooms.

Far up

Here we have reached the school

The schoolyard with the school below.

Here we are over the hill and look across the sea.

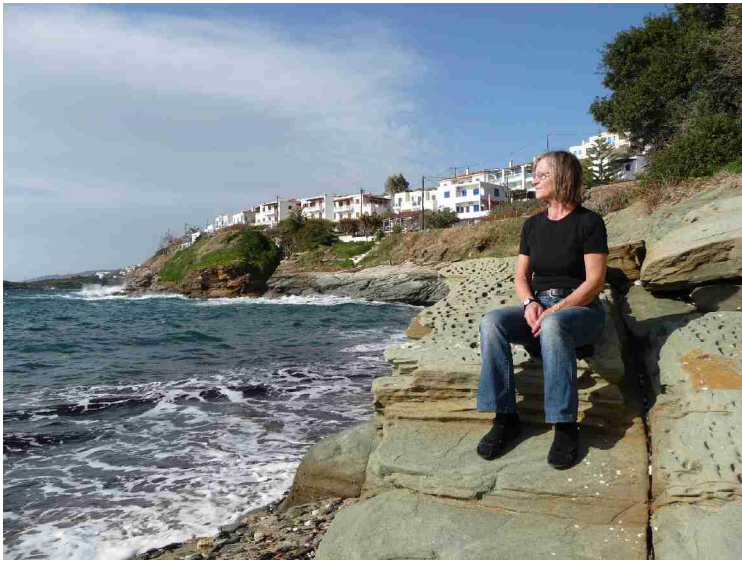

Sheep are grazing.

Here we are down on the road again.

A tiny beach

Here it was good to sit.

There are big waves.

Back in the town centre.
We had a Mythos beer at our regular taverna.

Afterwards we went to the butcher to buy some meat, but he didn't open until 17.30.

So we went back to the hotel.

Here we can see the church uphill. In the background we can see the highest mountain top in the island.

We dropped in at the supermarket and bought vegetables for the fleshpot, which we had planned.

Ready for payment

Now it was starting to get dark and we had a nice evening at the veranda

It is Anne Berit who is the photographer and takes most of the pictures, so she is not on many of the pictures.

The 11th of November

It is still the same warm weather here, about 20 centigrades. After breakfast we went uphill in the mountain behind the town.

Kjell has to «talk» with all the animals, which we pass.

Here we are passing the church.

Here we look across the bay at a lot of apartments, which are closed in the winter.

Free walking hen. Kjell had to «talk» with these too.

Here we are still higher

A large bush with nuts on. Don't know the name of it.

There are terraces all over

There is abundant vegetation in the sheltered valleys.

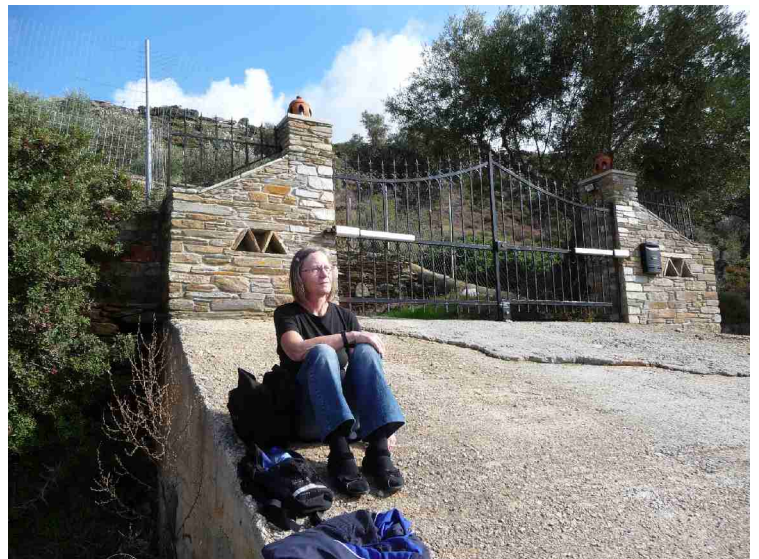

A really old olive tree.

Higher and higher.

There is also heather up here.

We had a little rest time.

This thistle is really sharp.

There were lot of these bushes with red berries.

Wide view.

Mushrooms

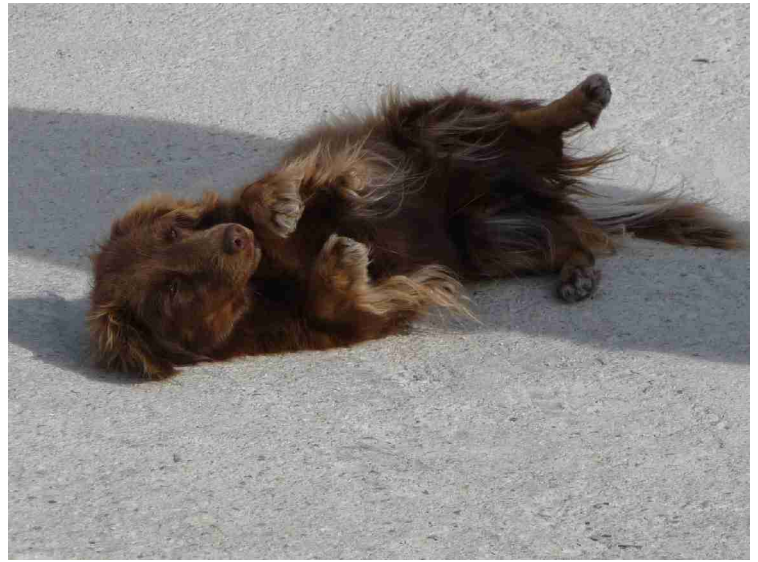

They have made terraces all over.

The roads have to be cut into the terrain.

Here Kjell has found one more dog to «talk» with.

What a watchdog!

Here is a good agreement

Various vegetation at the roadside

Here is a picture of our dinner. It is meat soup with a lot of vegetables.

We have used the following ingredients: Water, meat broth, potatoes, carrots, onion, garlic, pepper, Guinea pepper, aubergine, parsley, broccoli + meat.

Nam nam.

The 12th of November

Today there was only 16 centigrades in the morning, but gradually the temperature was rising up to 20 centigrades. Very good for this time of the year.

We had toast with jam for breakfast. Then the wasp came for full speed and wanted jam. Kjell had to fight and kill the wasps for a long time.

After a while a fishing boat came in from the sea.

We took a trip down to the harbour to see that there were many that have been out on the sea.

Here we are beside the boat.

Many wanted to buy fish.

They had got a good catch.

They also had a big cod, which was going on the weight

The weight has to be correct

We walked past the headland beyond the harbour

This is the only wooden house we have seen on these islands

Selling ropes

We were away to the post office, which was situated by the main road high above the town. Here was also a restaurant, bar, internet cafe, etc. Here we have some contrasts.

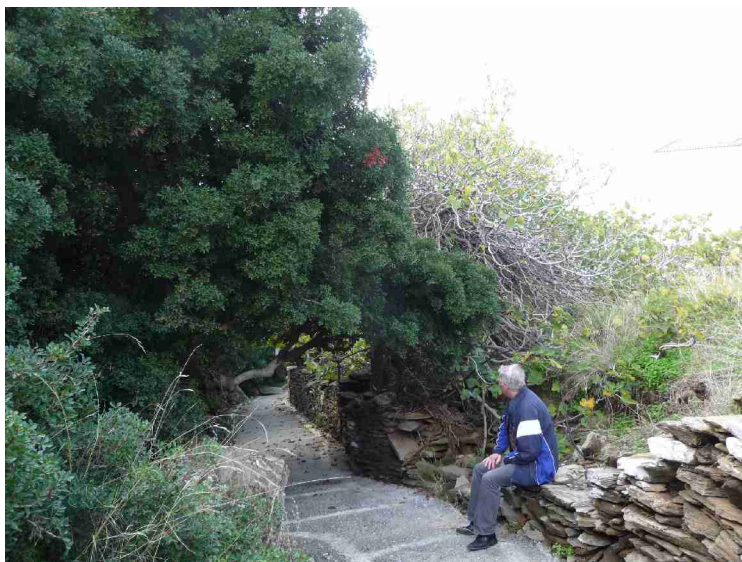

The bar

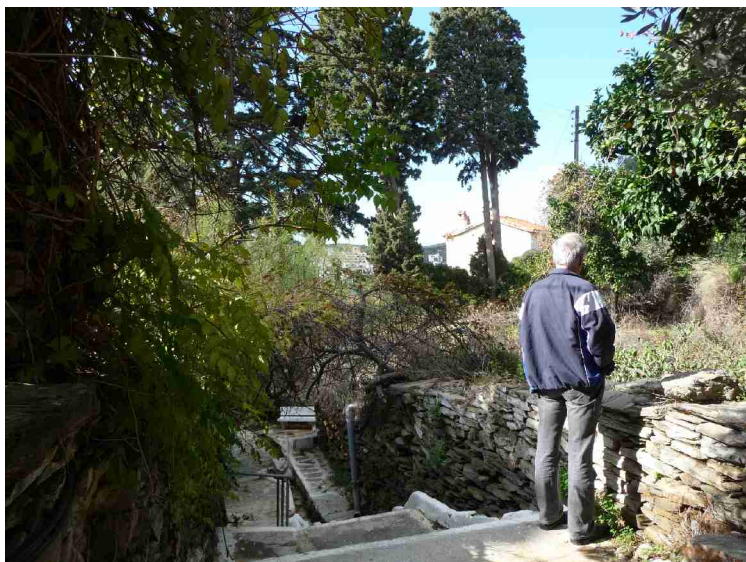

Post office

We walked back through the small valley. Anne Berit is just as Askeladden. Here she has found a goat horn.

Here a break and a smoke.

Kjell is looking at the vegetation.

Here is a high cypress

Down at the harbour again. Here is a guy fishing. Many are looking.

People have a good time in the nice weather

One more picture

On our way out on the mole

There is a beacon light furthest out that is powered by solar cells.

Here we are sitting out on the mole

Here we are at firm ground again. This is our regular taverna, Meltemi.

Now we are almost «home» again. We stay at the nearest corner where the sun is shining.

A little bit later we took the bus to the ferry harbour, Gavrio. Here we have something to eat. Salad and grilled pepper.

Kjell had fish. It was very good.

Anne Berit had chicken

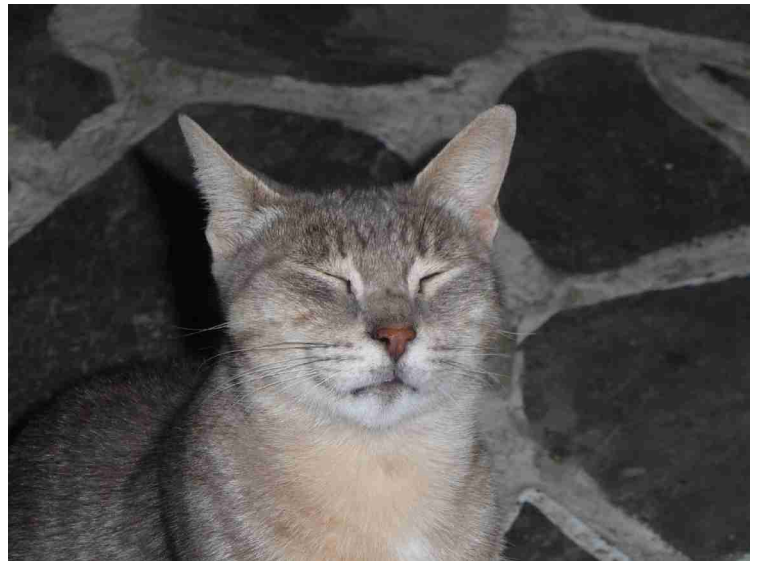

While eating, the sun went down

Kjell had fish, and the cats sat waiting to have a taste.

This one sat besides us all the time

Look how nice I am. I must get most food.

When we had finished eating the cats got the rest of the food out on this brim. Very good. Nothing was wasted.

To finish we had Greek coffe and Metaxa.
