

DØLISJØEN 28. APRIL 2026

This day we decided to take a trip to Dølisjøen in Sør-Odal to see if there was any bird life there.

We first stopped by Biltema, so we drove out of Kongsvinger on the old main road.

Here we cross the border to Sør-Odal.

We then drove a short distance on the E16. Here we turn off the motorway towards Slåstad.

The sign shows to Slåstad.

This is where we have come to Dølisjøen. The sign says 'WELCOME TO SLÅSTAD'

We drove a bit on a road that ran along the south side of the lake.

Here we turned around. We see Døli further away.

Benches were set out here.

Ptychostomum pallens?

We didn't see many birds on this trip. There were two ducks in the middle of Dølisjøen. Also, we saw many seagulls and quails following someone plowing a field. They probably found something edible in the soil.

There were quite a few dinghies on land.

Here there was a small island with a cabin on it.

Here we have reached Storsjøveien and will take the road to the right, Tronsbuvegen, which goes to the north side of Dølisjøen.

Here we are north of the sea. This is Trondsåa, which comes from the north and flows into the sea a little further down.

We drove a little round to the west and drive down here along Oppstadåa. We see Oppstad church.

Here we have passed Skarnes and are looking down towards Glomma.

We drove this stretch.
