

Trip to Sandnes in September 2010

While in Sandnes we stayed at Vølstadsbogen Camping as usual. After visiting Kjell's family, the plan was to go to Sørlandets Caravansenter in Grimstad to fix some minor faults on the camping car before the guaranty period ended. We arrived there the day before and we stayed overnight at Marivoll Camping.

Øystein, Kjell's brother, is visiting at Vølstadsbogen.

Here we are at Marivoll. The reception in the background.

Looking in the direction of the sea.

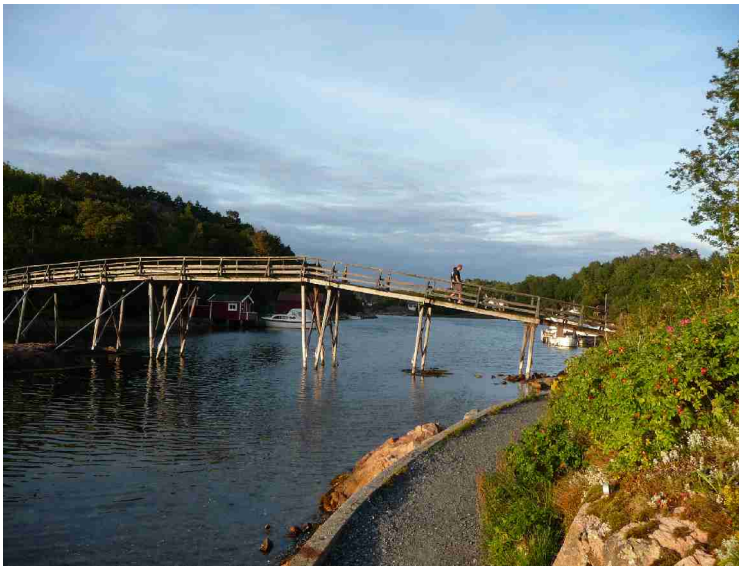

After a meal, we went for a stroll around the area. Here is a restaurant at the other side of the volleyball field.

The fiord below the restaurant.

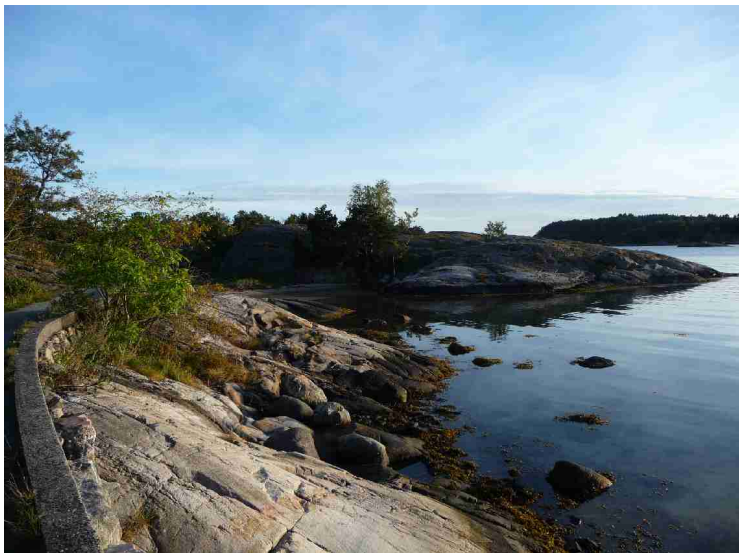

Anne Berit find it very idyllic here.

There is built a wooden bridge over the narrow fiord.

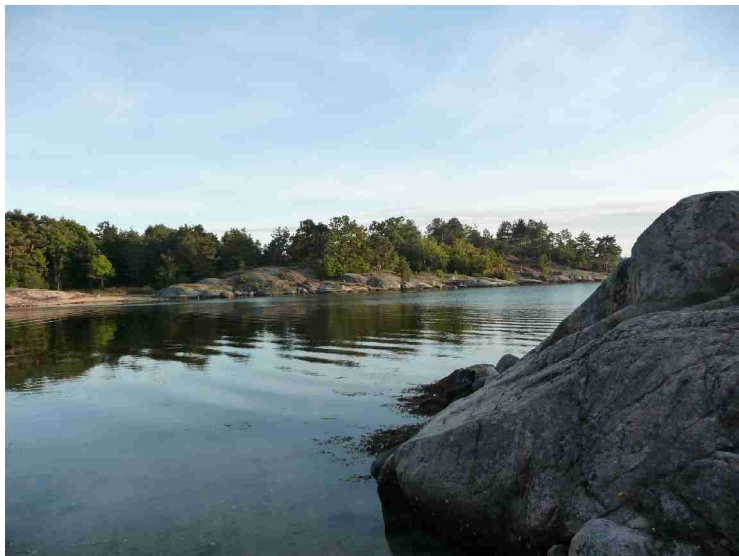

Quite idyllic!!

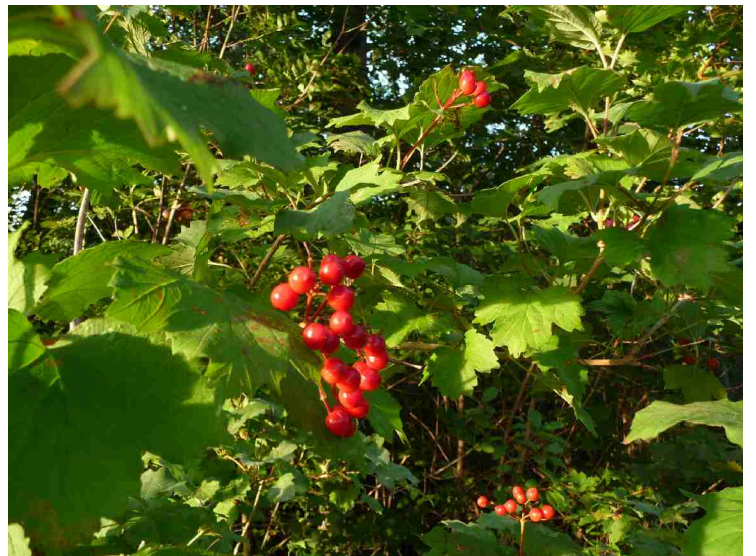

More idyll.

Still more idyll.

The idyll is never ending.

Here the idyll is broken by berries on a tree. We don't know what kind it is.

Her the idyll is starting again.

On the way back to the camping ground again.

Here the round is finished.

Marivoll lies here.

Trip to Brandbukampen the 13th of September 2010

At the top of Brandbukampen.

Kjell keeps the mast on its right position.

Kjell think this tree is quite nice.

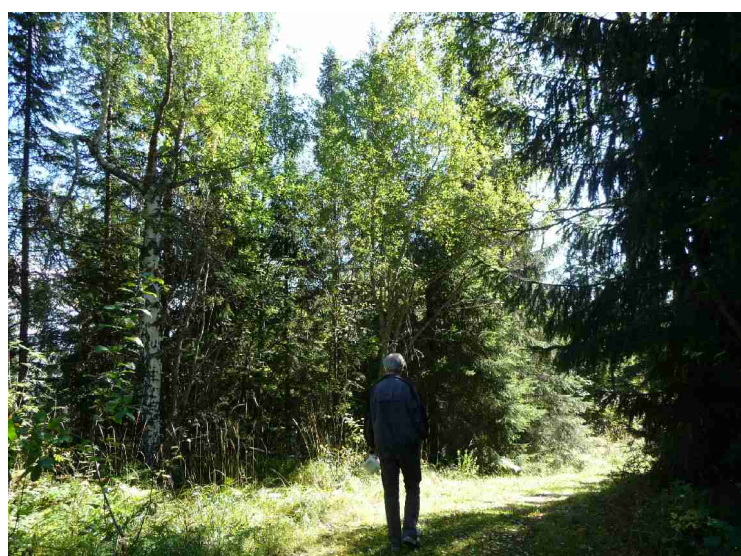

Anne Berit is admiring the view north towards Randsfjorden.

View down the mountain side.

Here we can see Randsfjorden better.

On the way downwards again.

A bit downwards is a place where it is popular for hang-gliders to start.

A view south towards Randsfjorden and Røykenvik.

A view in direction of Gran.

Right besides where we parked the car, we found a lot of mountain cranberries.

We picked a couple of liters in just a few minutes. Afterward we had a pig roast with mashed cranberries and a mushroom stew (also picked by ourselves).

Here we can see where Brandbukampen lies compared to Gran.
