

STÆRVEGEN – 18. APRIL 2021
Walk in the field above where we live.

Up in the woods there is a bird box with a partially damaged roof.

There was also a lot of feces after deer a little further up.

Here we have come so high up that we look down on the roof of the block where we live.

A little further away we look down on the part of Kongsvinger called Rasta.

Even further away we see the district Langeland and behind it a hill called Vardåsen.

There are felled trees here this winter, but all the timber has not been driven away yet.

Up here, tables and benches have been made.

Then we go down again.

In the slope there grows hepatica.

Willow with catkins.

Coltsfoots.

Crocus.
